FFA receives award

The work of the Appomattox County FFA chapter in wildlife conservation has been judged best in Southside Area. The 273-member chapter carried out ten wildlife conservation practices during the 1979-80 school year.

Students devoted nearly 1700 hours to individual wildlife conservation projects as a part of their supervised occupational experience programs. The chapter sponsored a hunter safety course for ninth grade students.

Nearly ten acres of wildlife feed patches were established by members. The chapter served as coordinating organization for "Operation Respect."

The work of the Appomattox chapter will be judged along with those of five other area winners in determining the state winner. Presentation of the state award will be a feature of the State FFA Convention in Blacksburg June 17-20.

County clean-up efforts to continue

Appomattox Litter Council chairpersons gave reports and evaluated the recent county-wide litter cleanup effort in a special meeting of the Litter Council Monday evening.

Clean-up chairman, Bill Caldwell, reported on the activities of the clubs, groups, and other organizations that participated in clean-up effort, and gave special thanks to the Extension Homemakers Clubs, the Ruritan Clubs, the schools, the churches, the boy scouts, the girl scouts, and any other group that participated. Appreciation was also expressed to those individuals who cleaned their property.

Communications chairman, Bill Britton reported that although the clean up drive is over, WTTA has agreed to continue using spot announcements to encourage a continuation of the anti-litter campaign and clean-up efforts in Appomattox County. He also plans to continue newspaper coverage of the various aspects of the campaign against litter with articles in the Times-Virginian.

Education and awards chairman, Shirley Eye submitted a report on the many activities conducted in the schools. She outlined plans for the continuation of a strong anti-litter campaign in the next school year with a number of innovative new ideas on how to make our school students effective voices in proclaiming the clean-up message to parents and other adults.

The Rev. Clarence Davis reported that bulletin inserts announcing the clean-up drive were delivered to thirty-four churches in Appomattox County.

Plans to get rid of junk cars in the county are continuing. Frances Tyler and Bill Caldwell reported that 75 junk cars have been located. Shirley Walton and Bill Caldwell have completed a draft of a release form for approval by the Board of Supervisors. A release form signed by the property owner where the junk car is located is required before it can be removed.

Franklin Vaughan, planning and organization chairman was unable to attend the meeting. However his committee was represented by Clarence Stine, Health Department Sanitarian, who reported that although the clean up drive was very successful, evidence of careless littering can still be seen in almost every area of the county. He stressed that all county residents should be made aware of the seriousness of a littering charge which is now a class one misdemeanor and can carry a jail sentence.

Some of the future plans and projects of the council are to solicit the assistance of groups in various areas of the county to look after container sites, to improve signs on the road to the landfill and at container sites, to get more community involvement, to keep coverage of all of the communities activities on the radio and in the newspaper, and possibly to have another clean-up drive for two weeks in the fall.

Rescue Squad honored

The Appomattox Rescue Squad has been selected to receive the "People Helping People" Award presented by the Delta Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The members of the Rescue Squad will be honored for their outstanding service to the community at a tea on Sunday, June 8 from 3-5 p.m. at the Rescue Squad Building.
